

North Carolina Council of Teachers of Mathematics

CELEBRATING 52 YEARS

OF EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING &
LEARNING FOR ALL STUDENTS

Join us for the 2022 NCCTM Leadership Workshop

A day-long workshop designed to support math leaders leading mathematics.

November 9, 2022 9am - 4:30pm

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER!

Agenda

9:00 - 9:30	Welcome! Breakfast sandwiches, pastries and coffee available.
9:30 - 11:30	Leadership Keynote Speaker: Geoff Krall How can we support teachers so they and their students can experience mathematical fulfillment? In this session, we'll examine the three pillars of dynamic math classrooms: Academic Safety, Quality Tasks, and Effective Facilitation. We will then apply these aspects of instruction to our role in supporting teachers. Geoff will share ideas, motivations, examples, and lessons learned from his role in supporting math teachers.
11:30 - 1:00	Lunch On Your Own
1:00 - 4:00	Breakout Sessions All participants will rotate through 3 breakout sessions. Effective Facilitation Breakout: Joe Reaper and Tammy Lackey, NCDPI Math Section Katie Martin, NCCTM Acting VP - Middle Academic Safety Breakout: Lisa Ashe and Denise Schulz, NCDPI Math Section Meredith Stanley, NCCTM VP - Elementary The Julie Robinson Math Festival Breakout: Julie Robinson Math Festival, Non-profit Group Emily Hare, NCCTM VP - Secondary This festival is a cost effective (minimal materials are required and all available on Amazon) manner to present quality tasks to students and parents as you create a dynamic math program in your district. During this session you will get to experience a math festival.
4:00 - 4:30	Closing Session Inspiration to Support and Maintain Necessary Conditions as NC Math Leaders

Registration for this workshop includes breakfast and an afternoon snack.

All participants will also receive a set of Necessary Conditions Task Cards.